- This image shows a template for handwriting practice. It features eight identical horizontal rows. Each row is defined by three lines: a solid top line, a dashed midline, and a solid bottom line. To the left of each row, there is a large, solid black dot, which serves as a starting point for writing. The entire page is white, providing a clear background for the practice lines.

This image shows a single page of white paper designed for handwriting practice. It features ten evenly spaced, horizontal dashed lines that run across the width of the page. These lines are intended to guide the placement of letters, typically defining the height of uppercase letters. The paper is otherwise completely blank, with no margins, text, or other markings.
